Re: Thank You

Dear Mr. Popov,

I wanted to thank you and your team for the great work you did out on our project. At the eleventh hour, your crew came in and completed all of the final testing and commissioning of your curtains moments before the city inspectors arrived onsite. Your dedication to making the project a success enabled Balfour Beatty to secure the certificate of occupancy and allowed the government employees to move into their space a few days early. For a large government project of that stature, that opportunity traditionally does not present itself. Thank you for all of the late nights, early mornings, and commitment to working with fellow subcontractors to resolve issues that arose during the city's final inspection process. We appreciate it and look forward to working with you on more projects in the future.

Sincerely,

Tim Boerschlein
